Golden Years

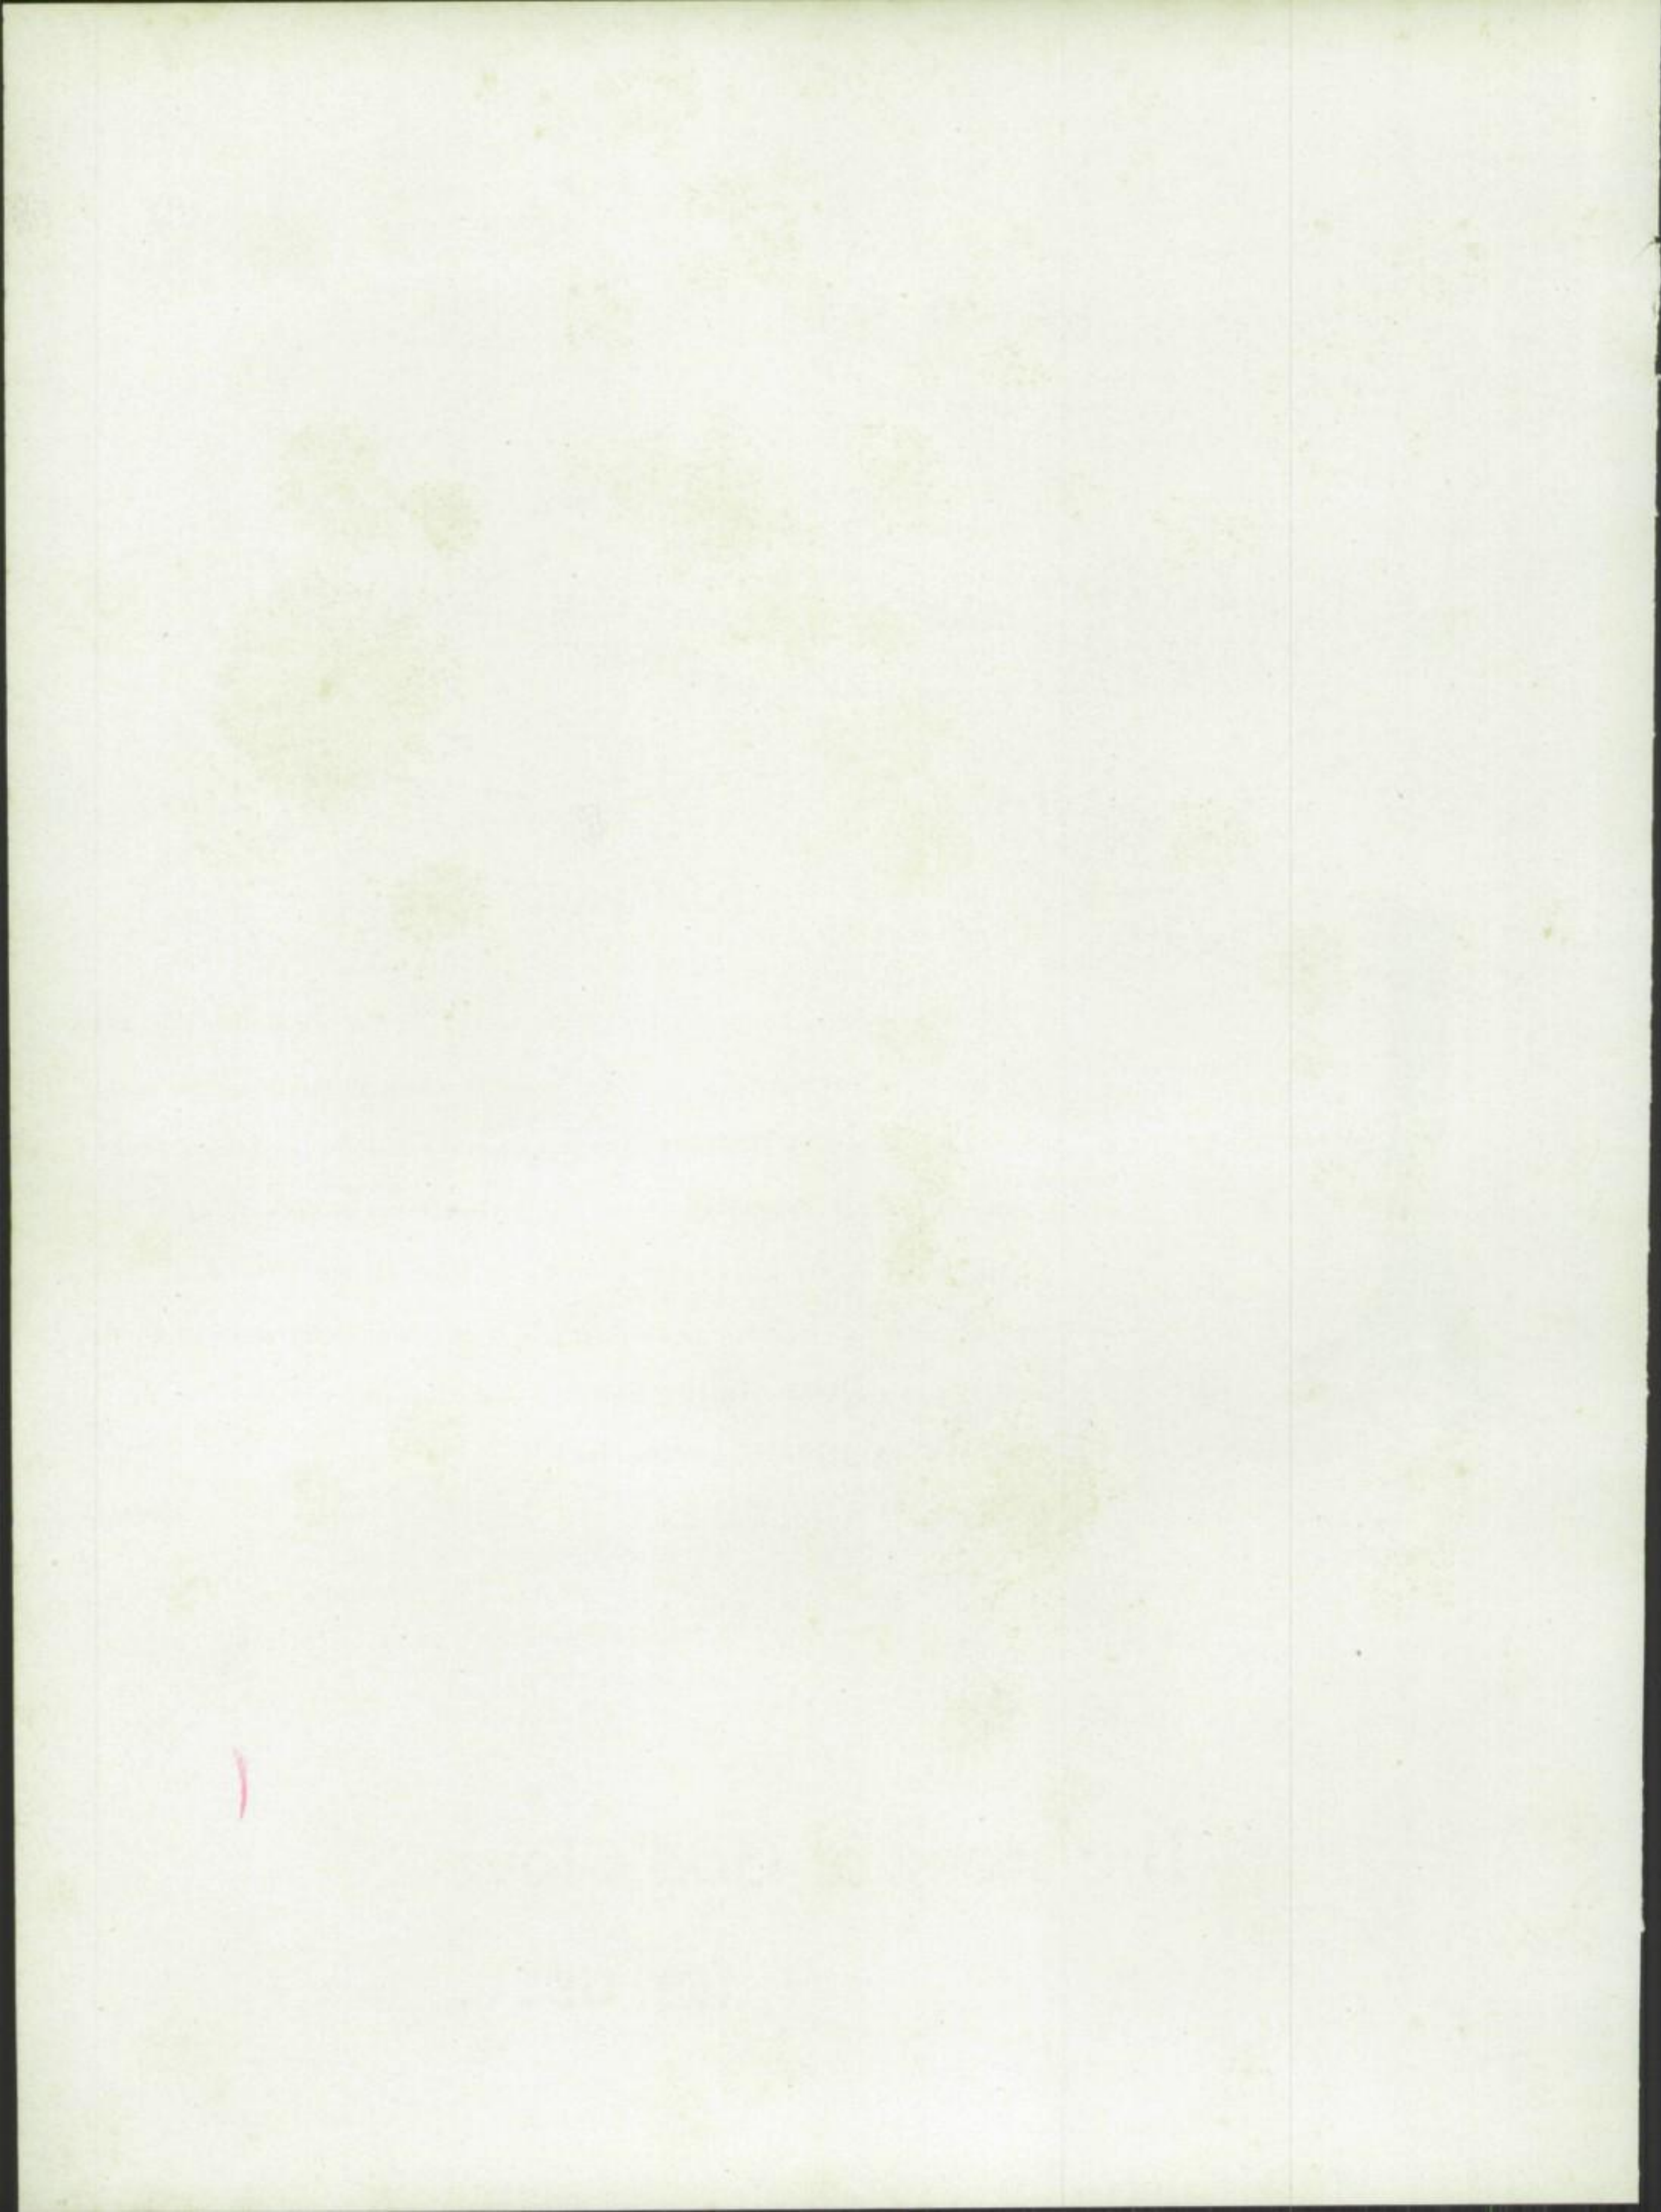

1955

FOREWARD

Once upon an eternity ----- God created us. As our Father, He has never ceased manifesting his paternal love. He made all things in the world for us, His creatures. The soft earth, the blue sky, the tiniest flowers in the field, all bespeak His loving care. Gently, He has taken each of us in His arms, the docile, the foreward, the bright, the slow. He has loved us all, and our seventeen or eighteen years of life read as a wonderful story of God's love. Parents, teachers, friends, school ---- as these pages of our 1955 Year-book turn, all reflect His guiding Hand.

The story of God's love for us ...

Dedication

To our parents, we the Class of 1955, wish to dedicate Golden Years as a token of love and gratitude. Our life, our love of God, our Catholic education --- we owe all to our parents, God's representatives. It is with pride we speak of them, with love we strive to honor them, with gratitude we look at them and see through the years, their judicious efforts to provide us with what ever would lead to our happiness here and hereafter.

He blest us with loving parents,
His representatives.

Reverend Joseph J. Grundner

Pastor and Administrator

Wisdom, generosity and love of God have made him an inspiration to all at St. John's.

The spirit of the Presentation Sisters is a family spirit. With patient understanding, these daughters of Mary have guided our years of study. We, as a family unit of "twenty strong" under their devoted care, have worked together harmoniously and effectively. We are grateful to these dedicated teachers for the well-rounded and cultural background they have given us. These Religious Teachers are but another manifestation of His loving care.

... and these religious teachers

He has lead us to our goal

JOYCE MARIE WOZNIAK

Traditions at St. John's

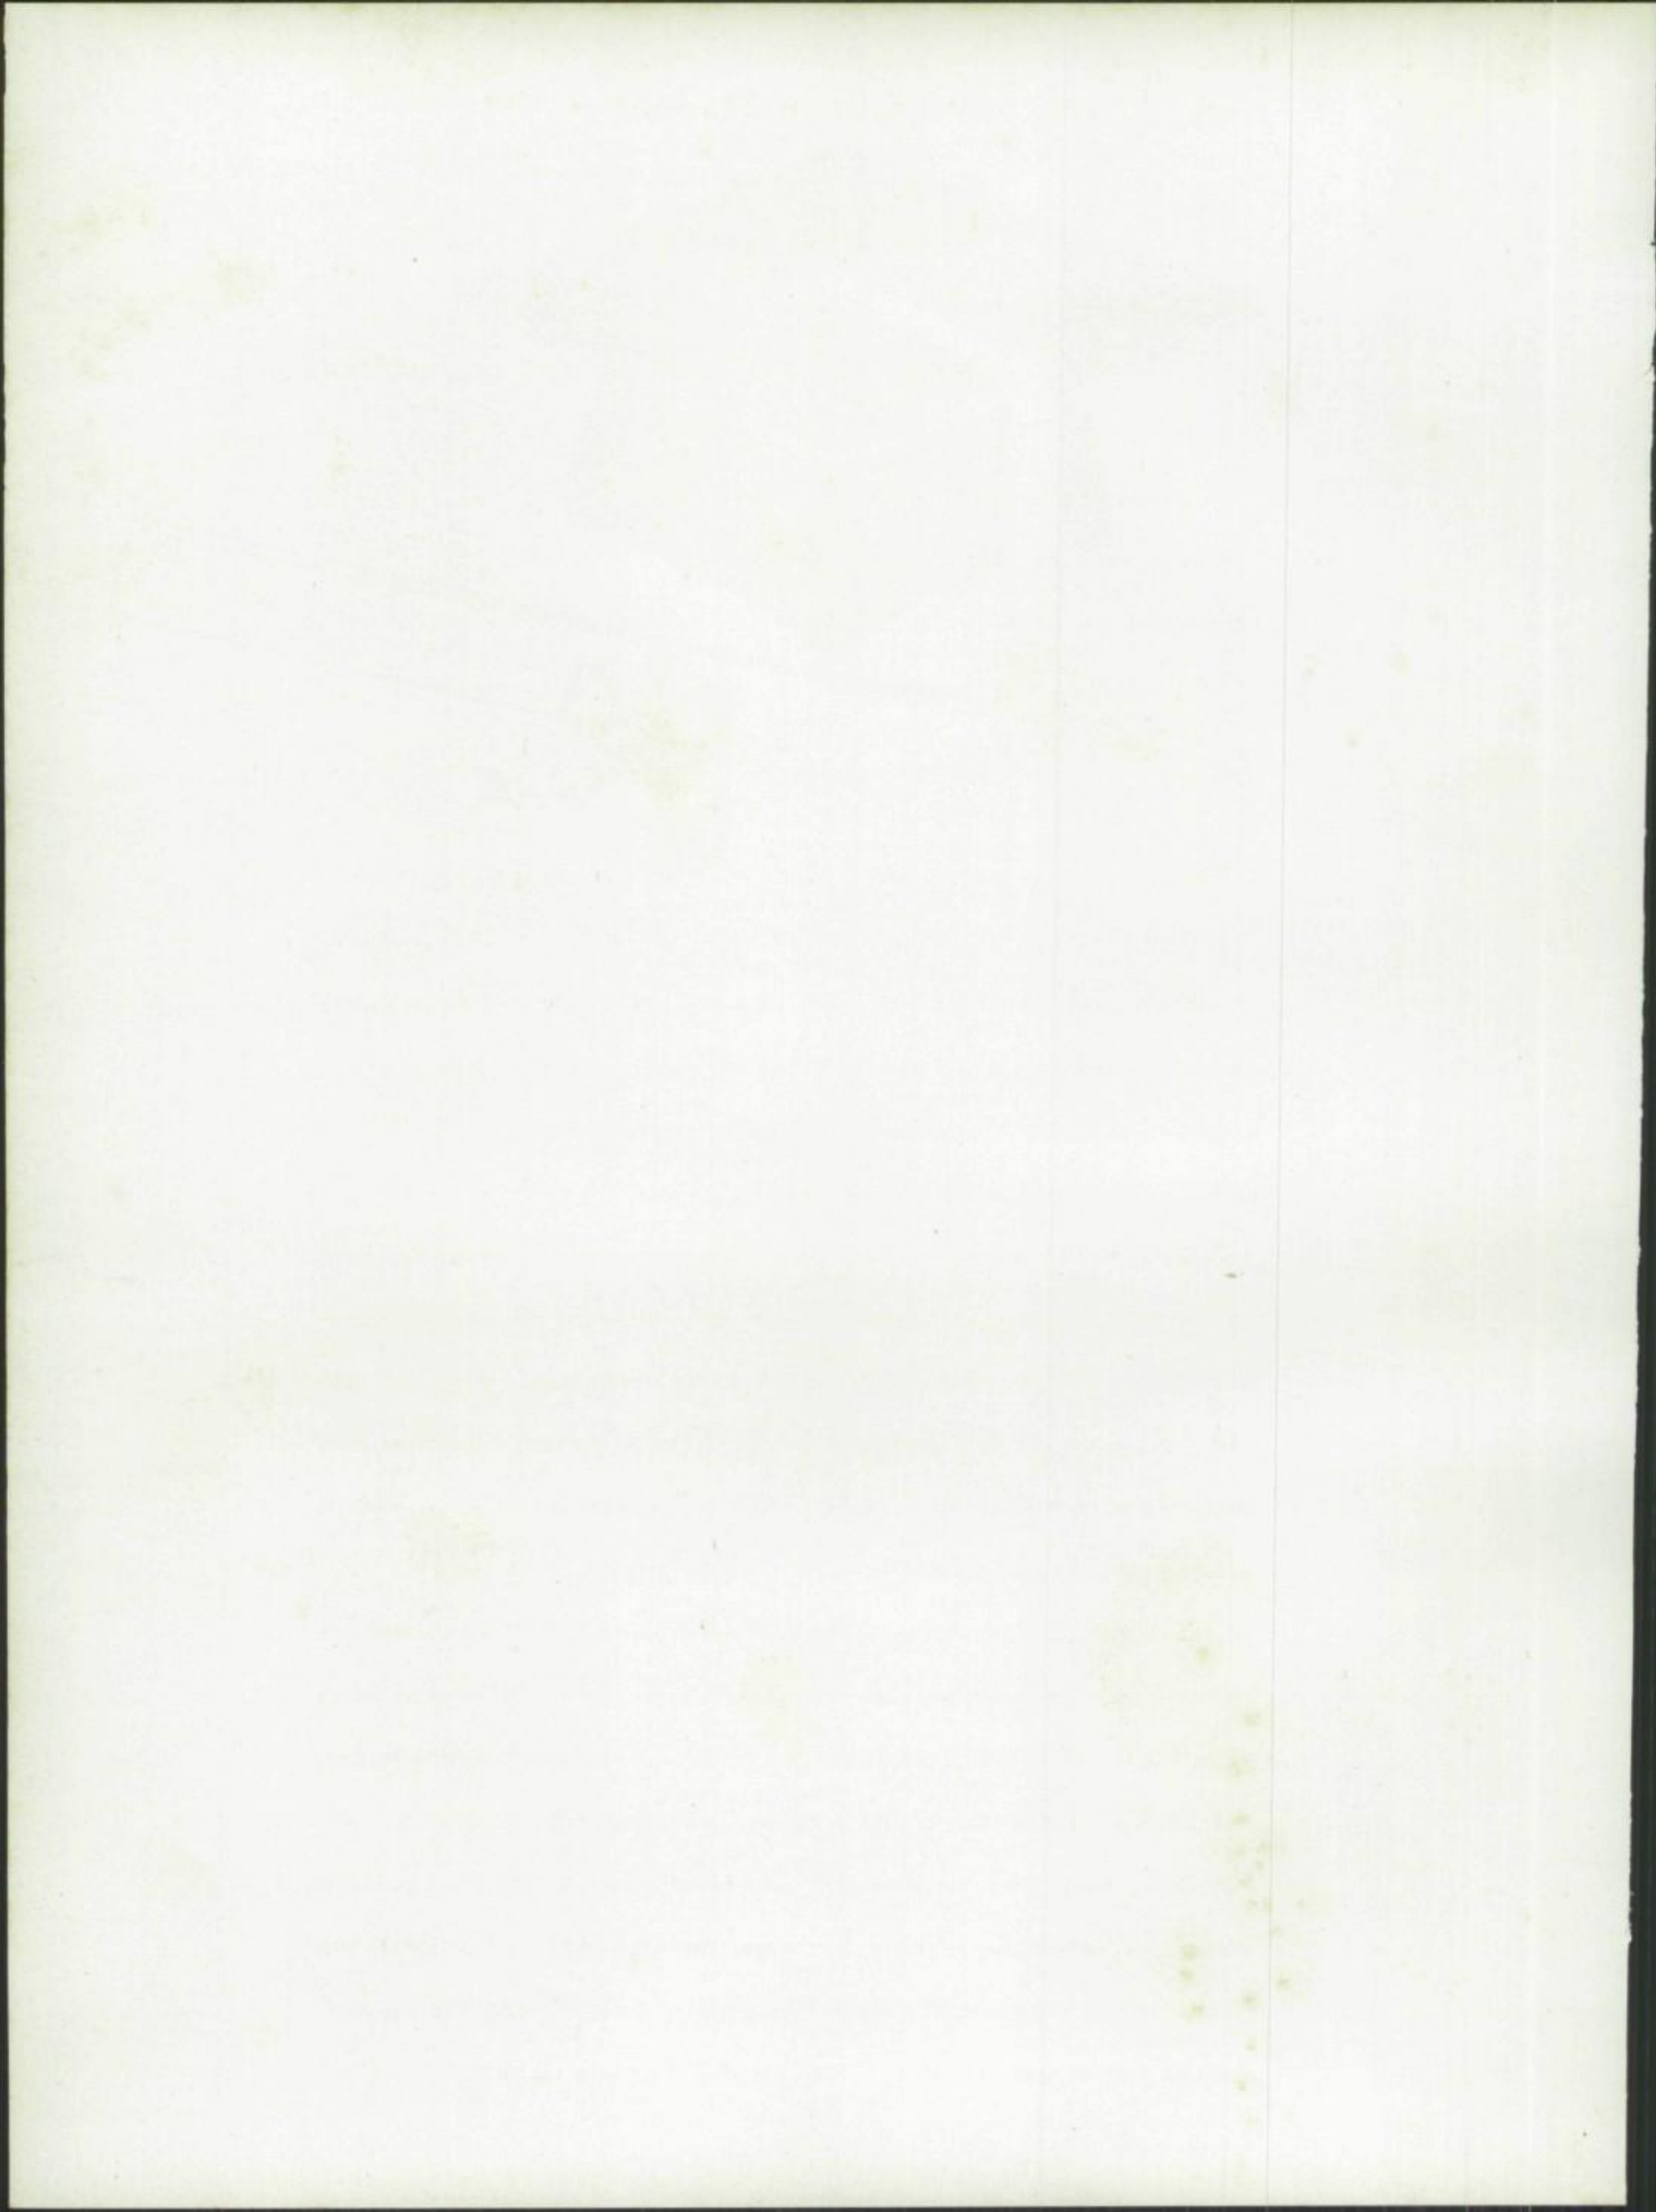

"He led my heart and feet
To this, my holy home...
I am three summers old."

Presentation Day and once again the familiar words of Father Ryan's poem filled the school assembly hall. For the students at St. John's, this was a traditional holiday filled with pagentry and song to honor our devoted teachers, the Sisters of the Presentation.

School traditions did we say? In our four years at St. John's we have known many and they are tucked away in our storehouse of precious memories. The annual three day retreat this year was conducted by Father Nagle, and the Seniors profited especially by the series of talks on full Christian living. These three days spent apart with God provided us with unmeasurable spiritual gain.

The Christmas luncheon, with its fun-provoking festivities started our holidays with the traditional merriment, characteristic of our unified spirit at St. John's. We shall never forget, Joseph Alex as Santa, Father Grundner and Father Cannon, as our guests, joined wholeheartedly in our fun. Mr. Martin, as usual, was our kind chef, and he marveled at the fine appetites. But the students of St. John's didn't forget the true spirit of Christmas and their unselfish spirit revealed itself by bringing Christ in song into the hospitals in the surrounding area. Under the able direction of Father

Cannon, our carolers surpassed themselves and left in their wake an echo of that first angelic choir in Bethlehem.

We could go on and on---- the impressive ring ceremony in the convent chapel, the Senior luncheon given by the Juniors to honor our "ring day", the school dances, especially the Snowland Dance so rich in the royalty of the newly elected King and Queen, the school trips, the roller skating parties, the educational cruise around Manhattan Island and lastly the regular basket ball games, fair play --- win or lose.

Even our classes in St. John's were rich in traditional enthusiasm. Yes, we can even make that assertion despite homework and those awful "test days". The Sisters worked untiringly to teach us, whether it was a geometry problem, a Latin declension, or a chemistry experiment. Work and concentration brought success to all our endeavors. We were fortunate to have Father Cannon give us special weekly instructions on practical religious problems.

But the training we have received consisted of more than just this. Our education has been personalized, individual attention has been given to each of us by our teachers. We have received an education of the mind, heart and hand. We have been taught to regard God as the source of all truth, wisdom and virtue. To strengthen our lives, we have been shown the need of prayer, the practicality of daily meditation, the possibility of sanctifying the humdrum occurrences of everyday life. Religion has been given its proper place in our lives. These are the traditions which have become a part of us at St. John's.

We are grateful for all we have learned within the portals of our Alma Mater. May our future show the fruitful harvest of the "traditional seeds" that have been planted within us; may these principles of Christian living, firmly embedded in our hearts, lead us to eternal salvation.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Senior Council Members: President, Joyce Wozniak; Vice-President, Mary Ann Stanford; Secretary, Ann Scarano; Treasurer, Lawrence O'Reilly.

The Student Council of St. John's serves as a liason between the students and the faculty. Among the aims of this organization are the stimulation of spirit and enthusiasm for all school activities. This challenging arena affords ample training in Catholic leadership. They set the school afire!

These ten efficient members of Student Council at their monthly meetings plan school outings, rallies, socials and various projects.

The Senior play "I Remember Mama" proved to be a most heartwarming story of American family life. Mama, the practical one, sees her children through childhood, manages to educate them and by an ingenious method helps Katrin, her eldest daughter to begin her career as a writer. Mama's sisters and Uncle Chris furnished the rich background for a great deal of comedy. St. John's will long remember the Hanson family on Steiner Street.

Ann,
Amos and Andie
in the dead of the night sailed to Harwood
on the string of a kite, the kite string broke and down they fell instead of Harwood they went to --- how don't get excited and don't get pale instead of Harwood they went to Yale.

Love
Diana

Dear Ann!
There's wishing you the best of luck in everything you undertake. Stay as sweet as you are and you will have many friends and loads of fun. Good luck in your future years at Saint John's High.
Love,
Doranne
